

Blue Sky: The Oregon Center for Photographic Arts at 40

By Dolan, Julia.

Portland Art Museum. 1 Cloth(s), 2014. hard. Book Condition: New. Founded in 1975, the artists' collective known as Blue Sky grew in stature just as the art form has gained prominence as a fine art. As this exhibition catalogue shows, the gallery's early support of such now-renowned photographers as Robert Frank, Nan Goldin, Harry Callahan, Paul Strand, Gordon Parks, and Garry Winogrand has resulted in a distinguished collection of works. The 130 color and black and white photographs highlighted here show tremendous variety, from Craig Hickman's poetic picture of the sky reflected in a cracked mirror to Viktor Kolar's shot of a pigeon and an abandoned glove on a bridge, and from Jo Ann Callis's surreal depiction of a plate of food ablaze on a dinner table to Jessica Todd Harper's unflinching portrait of herself standing before her fiancé and his parents, as if awaiting judgment. 214.

Reviews

Good electronic book and valuable one. It is one of the most incredible publication we have read through. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.
