Of the mode of cultivation and general management the following extract, marked No. 2. , will give some idea. The present head-master, Mr. Jones, came in January 1854. He was trained at Cheltenham, and took a second-class certificate. There are also three resident male teachers, besides the pupil-teachers; one being an assistant provided by the Government Minute of July 1852, and one only a French teacher. The infants schoolmistress, Miss Ince, trained at the Borough Road, superintends the upper school girls when out of the school-room, and undertakes the infant school with the assistance of a pupil-teacher and monitor. During the summer months the average attendance is in the infant school from 40 to 50, and in the upper school from 90 to 100; from 60 to 70 of these being day scholars. ITie lowest...
